GloboNote is a lightweight software application designed specifically for helping you apply sticky notes right on your desktop and set up alarms. Unobtrusive running mode It runs quietly in the system tray until called upon when it reveals several configuration settings to tinker with. You can access the program's features by performing a right-click mouse operation on the utility's icon from the system tray. You are allowed to create multiple sticky notes and organize them in different preset groups (e.g. Personal, Reminders, Business, Preferences) or user-defined ones. Preferences GloboNote gives you the possibility to make the selected note remain on top of other programs, lock the note (you cannot add or edit the text message), roll the note up or down, and switch to a compact viewing mode. The tool offers support for many dedicated parameters for helping you customize the notes. You can make the application automatically roll up the note when it loses focus, as well as show or hide the title bar (where the date and time is displayed), creation date on the title bar, and note border. What's more, you are allowed to alter the transparency of the note, choose between several preset profiles for customizing the layout of the note, and resize it. You can manually alter the editing area by selecting the font, size, and color of the text, and choosing the foreground and background colors. A smart feature bundled in this program allows you to set up alarms by selecting the date and time, choosing the desired sound notification from several preset options or uploading a custom audio file from the computer (WAV, AIFF, AU, MP3), and configuring the recurrence parameters. Editing, importing, and exporting capabilities GloboNote lets you perform basic editing operations (cut, copy, paste, delete), undo or redo your actions, use hotkeys, increase or decrease the font, insert custom images or URLs, date stamp, and checkboxes, attach files, as well as carry out find and replace operations. You may import/export data from/to plain text file format, print, hide, or delete notes, perform global search operations throughout the entire notes, and use the built-in Notes Manager for observing all notes organized by groups. An overall efficient app All in all, GloboNote proves to be a reliable application that comprises a rich suite of configuration settings for helping you place notes on the desktop, organize them in different

What's New in the?

Do you like to set up sticky notes, i.e. notes that remain on the desktop, on which you can add reminders, alarms, links, and other elements, then you can try out this program. In a nutshell, it is a simple utility that lets you organize sticky notes on the desktop by pressing the "Globo" button and creates a new sticky note. By default, it runs in the system tray, but you can switch to the main window by clicking on the GloboNote logo from the system tray. There are three pane controls which allow you to create, move, or remove sticky notes, as well as change its colors and insert images, use hotkeys, start and stop the notes, change the text size and the font, attach documents, move the sticky notes from one group to another, mark the notes as read or locked, and toggle the note display between compact and expanded mode. GloboNote has a nice user interface that enables you to easily use its functions. It also allows you to perform search operations throughout all notes, view the notes that you have added, move notes to another group, delete notes, or edit notes directly. Key Features
